"The program's diverse course portfolio has proven to be very beneficial. I plan to continue my education once I've had full exposure to my current position. Those in pursuit of this degree should network with the Professors. All of the Professors have diverse backgrounds and connections. I owe my internships, my current position, and success to networking with Daemen College Professors. Whether it be in a classroom setting or at a job, always volunteer for projects and network with those around you."

Daemen's MS International Business graduates found employment in international corporations in China, Spain, Turkey, Africa, and the United States.
